Welcome

On behalf of all of us at One Mind, welcome to the 26th Annual Music Festival for Brain Health! Though we wish we could all be together in person, thank you for being a part of this virtual celebration of life. Your generous support is indeed challenging norms and changing the world. In this unprecedentedly nettlesome year, it’s natural to feel rattled. Tonight, let’s take a deep breath, and look at all our reasons to cherish this time:

- Cutting-edge research collaborations are advancing on new treatments for the earliest stages of mental illness.
- Innovative, science-based, culturally sensitive care for serious brain illness is continuing to improve and to reach more people in need.
- More people around the world are talking openly about mental health.
- More people who live with brain health conditions are influencing the agendas of research and public policy for the better.
- We are here, together in spirit and virtually united, to stand up for healing our loved ones, while we get down to the tunes of a jazz legend, Arturo Sandoval!

All these 2020 highlights are possible because of you! To staff, donors, volunteers, sponsors, vintners, chefs, and entertainers – we salute and thank you, as we partner in this work to accelerate brain health for all!

Now jazz up, and enjoy this night!

Brandon, Shari, Garen and Shannon Staglin, and the One Mind Board and Scientific Advisory Board
Arturo Sandoval

A protégé of the legendary jazz master Dizzy Gillespie, Arturo Sandoval was born in Artemisa, a small town in the outskirts of Havana, Cuba, on November 6, 1949, just two years after Gillespie became the first musician to bring Latin influences into American Jazz. Sandoval began studying classical trumpet at the age of twelve, but it didn’t take him long to catch the excitement of the jazz world. He has since evolved into one of the world’s most acknowledged guardians of jazz trumpet and flugelhorn, as well as a renowned classical artist, pianist and composer.

He is one of the most dynamic and vivacious live performers of our time, and has been seen by millions at the Oscars, Grammy Awards, and Billboard Awards. Sandoval has been awarded 10 Grammy Awards, and nominated 19 times; he has also received 6 Billboard Awards and an Emmy Award.

Pre-registration was required to stream the concert. If you pre-registered, a link to stream the Arturo Sandoval concert performance was sent to you via email in the days leading up to the event. If you did not receive your link or you cannot find it, please email info@onemind.org.
Thank you for participating in this year’s Music Festival for Brain Health!

While we can’t gather together on the same scale that we have over the past 25 years, this year we can connect together virtually to learn about the latest in brain health research and enjoy great wine, food and music. Brain health remains an important and critical issue, especially in stressful times such as these. We are committed, more than ever, to continue the dialog, facilitate partnerships, and raise money and awareness as we work towards finding the causes and cures for brain illness. Thank you for your support!

Executive Chef Ariel Fox, VP of Culinary Del Frisco’s + Dos Caminos. Chef Fox grew up in Santa Cruz California, in the Monterey Bay where California farming was all around her. Chef Fox’s culinary philosophy stems back to her teenage years in Northern California, where she spent some time working for the small, family-run Mariquita Farm in Watsonville. It was there as a teenager that Ariel was introduced to California’s sustainable food movement. Ariel’s appreciation for organic agriculture and seasonal food inspired her to enter the California School of Culinary Arts’ Le Cordon Bleu Le Grand Diplôme Program—the institute’s most comprehensive program in French culinary education. Chef Fox spent her first nine years of her professional career in Los Angeles, then moving to New York where she now resides, working as the Vice President of Culinary at Del Frisco’s Double Eagle, Del Frisco’s Grille, and Dos Caminos. During her career, Ariel helped launch several nationally renowned restaurants including STK, Harding’s and ACME. Chef Ariel’s talents landed her in front of world-renowned chef, Gordon Ramsey as a contestant on the sixth season of the hit FOX TV series, Hell’s Kitchen, where she finished third and then also the 18th season in 2019 that she won.
2020 Fund-a-Need

Please join us in supporting the mental health of our frontline healthcare workers and those affected by trauma everywhere. This year’s 2020 Music Festival for Brain Health Fund-a-Need will benefit two of the most critical brain health initiatives that One Mind is actively supporting: The Heroes Health Initiative that provides healthcare workers with an easy way to track their mental health and access crisis support and resources, and the study that spawned it, AURORA, a major national research initiative that is working to improve understanding, prevention, and recovery for individuals who have experienced a traumatic event.

With your help tonight, we hope to raise $1 Million to support these two initiatives and the operational support One Mind provides.

To donate, text BRAINHEALTH to 44-321

The online Fund-a-Need will be featured throughout our streamed program this evening as we rally support for these two important initiatives. Be ready for the last few minutes of the Fund-a-Need rally, where you will have a chance to win a special shopping spree with Stephen Silver Fine Jewelry.

We thank you for your donations, and encourage you to share this opportunity with your friends, relatives and business contacts. Please ask them to participate and donate prior to 5pm PT on Sunday, September 13th when this Fund-a-Need closes. Any questions may be sent to info@onemind.org.

Thank you for supporting these two important brain health initiatives!

We’re hosting Music Festival dinners at a number of restaurants all over the country tonight.

Work together as a group to see if your location can donate the most!
Thank You for Your Generosity

One Mind

Launched in 1995 by Shari and Garen Staglin as their means to “run toward the problem” of their son’s schizophrenia diagnosis, One Mind is a leading international mental health non-profit that heals lives through brain research; working from science to patients to society. By convening the brightest minds in brain science and advocacy around a collective vision of “Healthy Brains for All”, One Mind is advancing a three-pronged program strategy of accelerating discoveries, improving services, and transforming societal culture.

Through achievements such as enrolling over 10,000 patients in innovative clinical studies and the One Mind at Work initiative, which brings supportive workplace mental health practices to over 6.3 million employees, One Mind is creating a world where people facing brain health challenges can build healthy, productive lives. Brandon Staglin, whose own experiences triggered the creation of the non-profit, now serves as its President, exemplifying the change One Mind seeks in its disruptive research and workplace initiatives.

Current Programs

- ASPIRe – a new initiative focused on enhancing recovery prospects for youth experiencing serious psychiatric illness (SPI) through early care, building on our 15+ year support of NAPLS.

- AURORA – a major national research initiative that is working to improve the understanding, prevention, and recovery of individuals suffering from trauma and PTSD.

- Heroes Health – an app-based initiative in partnership with Google that provides COVID-19 healthcare workers with an easy way to track their mental health and access crisis support.

- Healthy Brains Global Initiative (HBGI) – a global coalition led by One Mind and the National Academy of Medicine to issue a $10B social impact bond to accelerate neuroscience research that would be paid for by the reduction in the $3 trillion global economic burden for mental illness.

- One Mind At Work – focuses on the development and implementation of a gold standard for workplace mental health and well-being.

- One Mind All Media – a new division of One Mind dedicated to national media efforts that is reaching millions of viewers to bring awareness of brain research and the science of mental health.

- Rising Star Awards – an annual grant program providing promising, early-career investigators with $300K to accelerate their research on neuropsychiatric disorders.

- One Mind PsyberGuide – onemindpsyberguide.org supports consumers who seek to make responsible and informed decisions about computer and device-assisted therapies for brain illnesses.
